LETTER FROM NEW YORK.

Some Impressions of the Great City and Columbia University.

Correspondence Telegram.

New York City, Oct. 3, 1898.

According to promise I will give you a few impressions of New York City life. Mr. George W. Wilson, of Lenoir, N. C., is with me. We arrived here last Tuesday noon, and have had but little to do in the University (Columbia) as yet. We both have been here twice and knew something about the great city from the standpoint of travellers. This time we have taken rooms in the centre of the University community and hope to know the city and its varied life from the standpoint of residents.

The greatest thing in the whole city is Columbia University. With today it begins its 145th year. Its new location in Morningside Park is superb. Just on the south is the great St. Luke's hospital; on the north, Teacher's College; on the west, Barnard College and the Hudson river; on the northwest the imposing yet beautiful tomb of Grant. In the center of the university grounds stands the million-dollar library, given by President Seth Low.

However, it has been in the city rather than in the university that we have spent most of our time so far. The more one sees of New York the greater it becomes; and the greatest contrast between the very rich and very poor is more evident each day. The multi-millionaire and the lowest pauper are seen side by side throughout this great metropolis. The great sensations of the past week have been the nominations of Theodore Roosevelt (republican) and Justice Augustus C. Van Wyck (democrat) for the governorship of New York state. The newspapers in many cases are with Van Wyck. By the way, the North Carolina people should take a good deal of interest in him. Hon J. J. Osborne, assistant district attorney of New York, who married his daughter, is a North Carolinian; and it is stated by the papers here (I do not know how true it is) that Justice Van Wyck is a graduate of the University of North Carolina.

We had the first opportunity of taking in the battleships Saturday. We sailed alongside of the Iowa from Brooklyn to Thompkinsville. We found the Oregon, Brooklyn and Vixen anchored off Thompkinsville. The Iowa and Oregon started on their long voyage to Manila Saturday afternoon. It will take them till February, 1899, before they reach that faraway post. It was sad to see them preparing to leave the Atlantic ocean, the scene of their recent and glorious victory. New York and every American bids them a bon voyage. C. R.

At the Academy of Music.

The Lilian Tucker Company, opened a week's stand at the Academy of Music last evening before the largest audience that ever assembled in the building to witness a reportoire performance. Every seat was filled, fifty extra chairs in the aisles were occupied, and nearly a hundred people stood.

The performance of the play, "The Buckeye," was very clever, but even more to the audience's liking were the varied specialties introduced. These included little Theodore, a captivating little midget, in character songs; the Sisters Millar, banjo and duet singing; Eunice Goodrich, in serpentine dance, and the animated picture machine, the "Wargraph." Especially good was the serpentine dancing, in which electrical effects contributed to the terpsichorean talents of the fair dancer.—Danville Register, Oct. 4.

The Lilian Tucker Company open at the Academy of Music here next Monday night, for a week reportory, in the laughable comedy, "The Buckeye," interspersed with attractive specialties. One lady admitted free Monday night with each 30-cent ticket. Seats on sale Friday morning at Gardner's Drug Store.

Normal Opens Tomorrow.

The State Normal and Industrial College opens tomorrow October 6th. A large number of girls came in last night from the western part of the state and today they have been coming in on all trains from every direction. About forty came in on the noon trains and many more are expected tonight. Everything points to a fine opening and President McIver expects the largest enrollment in the history of the college. He says he needs more room badly and will be crowded but none will be turned away on this account as board will be secured for them in some of the best homes in the city.

UNTERRIFIED DEMOCRACY.

Hon. R. B. Glenn at Court House Last Night.

A. L. BROOKS AT FINISHING MILL.

Strong Presentation of the Cause of Good Government—Large and Enthusiastic Crowds.

Last night long before the hour for the speaking at the court house a large crowd had gathered around the square. The High Point band played several lively airs at the corner of Market and Elm streets, and about 7:45 marched out to the finishing mill, followed by a good crowd to hear Hon. A. L. Brooks, democratic candidate for solicitor. Before eight o'clock the court house was packed, a goodly number of ladies being present. Bob Glenn had no reputation to make, but one to sustain. He knew the people and they knew him. He fully sustained his reputation and his most enthusiastic admirers were well pleased with his able effort.

THE SPEECH.

Promptly at eight o'clock, Hon A. M. Scales, chairman of Guilford county democratic executive committee, briefly introduced Mr. Glenn. In the outset the speaker said he wanted to be perfectly fair to every man. He wanted every man to be perfectly fair and honest with himself and to vote his convictions. If he believes the republican party can give the best government, then vote for that party. If the populist, then vote with them. If the democratic, then vote that ticket. Take the records of all parties and let them speak. Look at every side of it. Under which government have the people been happy and contented? Which has been the cleanest? Which has cost the least money? Every good business man wants the most he can get for the least money.

Mr. Glenn said he was not asking for negro votes—they are solid. One hundred and twenty thousand negroes are already counted as having voted the repoplican ticket. They are true to their color. Can white men afford not to be equally true to theirs?

RECONSTRUCTION DAYS.

He then took up the days of reconstruction under republican rule and portrayed the darkness, the hideousness, the sorrow and the anguish of those days in convincing and convicting terms. While on this the great speaker warmed up to his work and every fibre of his massive frame quivered in response to the earnestness of his soul as he dictated the fearful and damning bill of indictment against the republican party for the horrors of reconstruction and the pitiable spectacle of an "exhausted judiciary."

Then as the powerful speaker turned from the wretchedness and shame of those days and ushered in the glorious triumph of democracy and the administration of Zeb Vance, the electric button was touched and the court house fairly shook with a mighty burst of applause in which the thunderous voice of the speaker was no more than the chirp of a sparrow in a cyclone, and he was compelled to stop until the cheering was over. The people were touched and stirred to the bottom of their hearts.

DEMOCRATIC RULE.

Mr. Glenn then gave a hurried review of the good results of democratic rule, the asylums and school honses built for white and black, teachers employed, and while this was being done, the taxes reduced from 80 cents on the hundred dollar valuation to below 40, then below 30, then down to 23. This brings us to the triumph of the fusion crowd at the polls, and what another picture of shame and degradation is presented!

STEALING PLATFORMS.

The speaker briefly recited the cause of the populists' leaving the democratic party and told why they should come back now. You say we stole your platform. Then, if it is a good thing, come and get on it with us and don't commit the unpardonable sin of trying to steal the republican platform. Of course, if you want it and do steal it you can't be indicted for it, for any lawyer will tell you that to be indicted for theft you must steal something of value.

FUSION RULE.

He then referred to the fusion legislatures and told of the increased expenses under fusion rule. Here he made a proposition to any man of any political creed that if he doubted any charge that he (Glenn) should make that he would pay his way to Raleigh or anywhere else necessary to prove it and if it were not exactly as represented he would come home and vote the republican ticket if the man accepting the proposition would be equally fair and vote the democratic ticket if he found the charges sustained. (No takers.)

The three first years of fusion rule in the state cost the taxpayers the enormous sum of $386,750 MORE than the last three years of democratic rule. He then referred to the iniquitous tax collecting law and the assignment law passed by the fusionists, in which the supreme court had to come to the relief to save the precious legislature. Upwards of sixty acts of that crowd have been declared unconstitutional.

Another damnable blot on the name of North Carolina is the fact that the fusion legislature didn't have time to adjourn in honor of the birthdays of the illustrious George Washington and the glorious Robert E. Lee; but that they DID have time to adjourn as a mark of respect to Fred Douglas, the notorious negro politician and advocate of social equality and intermarriage between the races!

Referring to Cy Thompson's slander of Col. Saunders and Oct. Coke, now dead, the speaker was most severe. The Kirby Smith and Jim Young "incidents" were handled with righteous indignation.

CLOSING APPEAL.

Then, in closing he spoke of the conditions in the east, and his appeal was most earnest and touching. Noticing a few republicans smiling, in thunder tones the speaker exclaimed: "You may smile, but not a mother's son of you has got the bravery to accept my proposition to go down east and take a look at things for yourselves."

Mr. Glenn related an incident of an aged man on his deathbed recently in a fusion ridden county and told how the old man clasped his hands and prayed earnestly to God to spare him to vote for his country and humanity the coming election. When the speaker told this a brother of the republican state chairman, who was sitting on the floor inside the bar, laughed as if in derision of the old man's plea!

Mr. Glenn spoke for nearly two hours. Hon. Thomas Settle was heard to say that he went out expecting to hear the ablest presentation of that side and he heard it. The speaking accomplished much good.

MR. BROOKS SPOKE.

We learn Mr. Brooks had a good crowd at the Finishing Mill and as usual made a most eloquent, able and convincing speech. We are sorry we failed to get a synopsis of it for publication; but we shall have another opportunity of hearing and writing of our gallant and popular standard bearer for solicitor.

The Views of Either General Merritt or Admiral Dewey in Regard To The Philippines.

By Cable To THE TELEGRAM.

Paris, Oct. 5.—The United States Peace Commissioners held their usual session from 10 to 1 o'clock today in a continued conference with General Merritt. They have practically concluded to extend the canvass of the Philippine situation.

The members refuse to discuss the views of either General Merritt or Admiral Dewey with regard to the policy which should be pursued toward the people of the Philippines. Nothing could be learned other than that they recommended the retention of the islands or the evacuation of the American forces.

It is learned that Admiral Dewey handed General Merritt a communication setting forth his judgment upon a subject which is submitted with the report of the American military officers at Manila touching the condition of the Philippine islands.

"Uncle Nick" is having some incandescent lights put up on the veranda of Jarrell's hotel facing the railroad.

The Charlotte Observer today announces the death of Mr. R. A. Cole which occurred yesterday at the home of his parents at Cary. He finds no fault with the army camp and conditions, says that luxuries were supplied to the sick in hospitals and praises the work of the surgeons in providing a filter at Wikoff as a necessary precaution. The pest pond was four hundred feet from the well, and in the opinion of the doctors it would take years for any detrimental matter to go from the pond to the wells.

BEARING BRUIT.

Such a speech as Bob Glenn makes delivered in every township in North Carolina would result in a democratic majority almost unparalleled in the history of the state. A prominent Greensboro merchant called at this office this morning to say that he had just been talking to a life-long republican, an old acquaintance who lives in another county. This republican friend says that heretofore he had no idea of the great contrast in the government of the two parties, and had looked on the negro question simply as a scarecrow; but he heard the honest, able and earnest speech of Mr. Glenn last night and this morning he declares he is done with the republican party, and though around his own home he is not troubled with negroes, he will henceforward vote and affiliate with the white man's party.

This same man says that others who heard that speech will do likewise. Mr. Glenn's propositions to pay the expenses of any republican who will go with him and search the records and visit Eastern Carolina is a clincher. It shows the great honesty of the man's heart and convinces men of his sincerity of purpose. The picture has not and cannot be overdrawn. Rev. O. L. Stringfield a prominent Baptist minister says the twentieth part of the disgrace, shame and scandal in the east has not been published. Tongue or pen cannot portray the situation as black as it really is.

The story of the suffering and loss of life and property in the path of the recent storm along the south Atlantic coast is most harrowing; but according to the Progressive Farmer the distress is nothing compared to what it will be in North Carolina with a return to Raleigh of the last fusion legislature!

Senator Marion Butler, when he began to speak in this campaign, was rather tame and it is said that his first speeches were very unsatisfactory to the fusion bosses; but that now he has "got down to his knittin'" and that his efforts are meeting the approval of the "bosses" What has become of the senator's authority to boss? He has been the recognized leader for the past six years, and it sounds strange to talk of his having bosses. It doubtless comes awkward to him to serve after having been served so long. Has the former slave become the master of his master? At first the populists were dictators to the republicans; but now the republicans hold the reins and the populists only serve as a gang plank.

Oak Ridge Items.

Oak Ridge, Oct. 5th.

R. L. Carter came in last week from Jacksonville, Fla., where he has been with the First regiment. Mr. Carter is perhaps the best all around athlete in the state, having won five points out of thirteen at the W. N. C. field exercise, last April.

The O. R. I. athletes will soon go into training for a field day, to be held the first of December. Ribbons of honor will be offered for the first, second and third best: Pole vault, 100 yards run, 220 yards Hurdle, one-fourth mile dash, Running broad jump, Standing broad jump, Running leap, Kicking for goal, Punting, One mile bicycle race, Putting the shot, Throwing the hammer.

Miss Myrtle Holt spent Saturday and Sunday with her parents, returning to Salem Academy today.

Rev. W. H. Holcombe from Virginia, was at the Ridge today.

N. C. Long, state agent for Spalding, was in "the city" last week.

Hon. H. A. Gudger, U. S. Minister to Panama and Z. V. Walser, State Attorney-General, will speak at Oak Ridge, Oct. 12.

Bob Stafford, late of the western league is at home three miles from the Ridge.

As the roads from Greensboro, via Guilford are in fine condition, many of the Greensboro wheelmen might come out to see the foot ball game between Greensboro and Oak Ridge, Friday Oct. 7th.

Kitchen and Brooks.

Mr. A. L. Brooks, the Democratic nominee for solicitor in the Fifth district, was in Raleigh yesterday, returning from Chatham county where he made a speech at the county convention. Mr. Brooks reports improved prospects for the democracy in every county in the district. and says that men who know most about the political situation think that Kitchin's majority will exceed 1,000. He is making a splendid canvass and winning votes daily.

Mr. Brooks has found unexpected encouragement in his canvass from all portions of his district, and believes that all signs point to his election.—News and Observer.

Three Doctors in Consultation.

From Benjamin Franklin.

"When you are sick, what you like best is to be chosen for a medicine in the first place: what experience tells you is best, to be chosen in the second place: what reason (i. e. Theory) says is best is to be chosen in the last place. But if you can get Dr. Inclination, Dr. Experience and Dr. Reason to hold a consultation together they will give you the best advice that can be taken."

When you have a bad cold Dr. Inclination would recommend Chamberlain's Cough Remedy because it is pleasant and safe to take. Dr. Experience would recommend it because it never fails to effect a speedy and permanent cure. Dr. Reason would recommend it because it is prepared on scientific principles, and acts on nature's plan in relieving the lungs, opening the secretions and restoring the system to a natural and healthy condition. For sale by C. E. Holton.

They Have "Arrove."

One hundred and seventy-five defendants and witnesses from Wilkes, Surry and Yadkin counties passed through Winston last night on their way to Greensboro to attend Federal court. Two defendants from Wilkes passed through here yesterday walking. One of them said: "We left home two days ago. Neither one of us had ever ridden on the cars, so we thought the safest plan would be to walk through."—Winston Sentinel.

How to Prevent Croup.

We have two children who are subject to attacks of croup. Whenever an attack is coming on my wife gives them Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, and it always prevents an attack. It is a household necessity in this county and no matter what else we run out of, it would not do to be without Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. More of it is sold here than of all other cough medicines combined.—J. M. Nickle, of Nickle Bros., merchants, Nickleville, Pa. For sale by C. E. Holton.

To Notify "Teddy."

New York, Oct. 4—A special train took Chairman Odell of the state committee, and other to Oster Bay today to formally notify Colonel Theodore Roosevelt of his nomination for governor. Dr. Chancey Depew will make the speech.

Insulted the Postmistress.

One Minute Cough Cure surprises people by its quick cures and children may take it in large quantities without the least danger. It has won for itself the best reputation of any preparation used today for colds, croup, tickling in the throat or obstinate coughs. Howard Gardner.

BOILER EXPLODES.

Killing Two Men Instantly, Wounding Five.

Roxboro, N. C., Oct. 4—One of the most distressing accidents that ever occurred in this county happened about four miles from Roxboro early last Sunday morning. The tramway of Vandergriff & Co., connects with the L. & D. Railroad about two miles from town. Saturday night a party of seven workmen, five white and two colored, brought lumber to the junction. After unloading the lumber the men came to town and proceeded to get full of whiskey. About day they started back on the engine to the lumber camp. When they had gone about two miles they stopped to get water. The water had gotten too low in the boiler and when the stream of cold water was turned in, an awful explosion was the result. One of the men was thrown forty yards over the top of some trees; another thrown twenty yards. These two were instantly killed. Three others were probably fatally wounded. The five killed and wounded were all white. Strange to say the two negroes were only slightly hurt. All three men are new comers from Virginia and your correspondent was unable to obtain their names.—Special to News and Observer.

A Card from Dr. Willson.

GREENVILLE, S. C., Sept. 21, '98.

Hon. J. H. Southgate, Chairman Trustees Trinity College, Durham, N. C.:

Dear Sir: I found in the "address" of Judge Clark, in the Clark-Kilgo matter, an allusion to an alleged "combine" of Dr. Kilgo, the late Dr. Kirkland and myself, and I wrote Judge Clark and the Progressive Farmer (the paper in which I saw the "address) contradicting the slander. Having neither heard or seen anything of my communication, I write you to ask a place in your pamphlet, to say this: The statement that any "combine," collusion or agreement was formed or existed at any time, or for any purpose, between the late Dr. W. D. Kirkland, Dr. Kilgo and myself, is absolutely and utterly untrue. I think, in justice to a dead man, whose name there is effort to soil, and an absent man, whose reputation there is endeavor to stain, I should be allowed to say this much, and I believe your Board will permit it.

Very respectfully yours,
John O. Willson

Miss Hill Has No Aspirations.

Richmond, Va., Oct. 4.—Miss Lucy Lee Hill, who has been suggested as successor to Miss Winnie Davis as Daughter of the Confederacy, has written a letter to a newspaper here, stating the honor was unsought by her, and that with General Gordon she believed the title should die with the original possessor. She was content to be a Confederate soldier's daughter. To a friend she wrote that the whole affair keenly distressed her.

HOBSON AT SANTIAGO.

He Saves The Guns Of The Vizcaya Recovers His Lost Glass.

Santiago, Oct. 3.—Lieutenant Hobson has arrived here on a visit. He changed his programme and worked on the Vizcaya in recovering her guns. To-morrow divers will make a final examination of the Vizcaya's bottom, in the hope that there is a bare possibility of raising the ship. Lieutenant Hobson will afterward proceed to the wreck of the Almirante Oquendo and take off her guns, leaving the Cristobal Colon until the last. Lieutenant Hobson has recovered the glasses which he had on the Merrimac.

While looking overboard in the clear water one day he saw what he thought might be his glasses. He dived overboard and discovered that the object he had seen was that for which he had been searching. The glasses were recovered and shipped North to friends in New York.

Col. Carr's Residence on Fire

Durham, Oct. 4—An alarm of fire was turned in at 10 o'clock tonight and it was found that the kitchen of Col J. S. Carr's handsome residence, "Somerset," was ablaze. The fire company responded promptly and by good work soon extinguished the blaze. The damage to the kitchen and servants' room was about $2,000. The main building did not take fire and was uninjured.

The cause of the fire is not accurately known, but as the blaze was first seen over the servants' room where the electric wires enter the building, it is supposed that imperfect insultation of the wires was the cause.—Special to News and Observer.

How to Look Good.

Good looks are really more than skin deep, depending entirely on a healthy condition of the vital organs. If the liver is inactive you have a bilious look; if your stomach is disordered you have a dyspeptic look; if your kidneys are affected you have a pinched look. Secure good health and you will surely have good looks. "Electric Bitters" is a good alterative and tonic. Acts directly on the stomach, liver and kidneys, purifies the blood, cures pimples, blotches and boils, and gives a good complexion. Every bottle guaranteed. Sold at C. E. No Warrant for Hubby.

A colored woman named Haywood, accompanied by her father, called at 'Squire Pritchett's office this morning to get out a warrant for her husband, who is not fulfilling his promise to love and protect her. On the other hand he recently administered a severe thrashing.

The father, whose wrath was also kindled, left the woman at the 'Squire's office to do the swearing for the warrant. His Honor was busy and showed her chair between two doors. The damp draught soon cooled her off, aided perhaps by the thought that she and her hubby would have to live together some more, and he might make it all the more warm for her if she got him into a law suit. In a short while she arose and said she would not take the warrant this morning, but "if he beats me any more I'm gwine to bring 'im right to yer, 'Squire."
